

Monday Event Details

Brunch at

Wedding Celebration!

Finally the main event! Join us in downtown Ballard at the Olympic Rooftop Pavilion at the Hotel Ballard at 6pm.

Nico &
Allison

September 14-16, 2019

Allison and Nico's Seattle Celebration!

Thank you so much for coming out to see us and to celebrate our marriage! We are so blessed to have such a loving and supportive family and we're excited to get to spend some quality time with you over the next couple of days!

Events

We have set up a series of events that you can choose to attend if you are feeling up for it, but we also want you to feel free to explore our wonderful city by yourself and "choose your own adventure," if you feel so inclined.

To that effect, we have set up a loose schedule for this weekend that you should feel free to follow as closely as you desire! All of the following events (besides the wed-ding celebration dinner Monday night) are completely optional! We will be there and you're sure to run into some other friendly faces as well.

- Saturday, September 14

- Most people will be arriving this day! Feel free to hit up the Pike Place market or any of the other ideas we have on page 8.

- 7pm – Dinner at Peddler Brewing. See page 4 for details.

- Sunday, September 15

- 10am-12pm – Hike in Discovery Park (page 5)
- 12pm-2(ish) – Lunch/games in Discovery Park (page 5)
- 7pm – Dinner at Ivar's Salmon House (page 6)

The Nisqually Room at Ivar's Salmon House

Sunday Event Details

Discovery Park Hike and Picnic Lunch

This is one of Nico's absolute favorite spaces in the city. When he first arrived he was amazed by all the huge green spaces all around us and made it his quest to visit them all. The placement of this park played no small role in our decision to move to Magnolia. Now we live right next door and Nico gets to go running in the park before school!

Discovery is the largest park in the city of Seattle. It clocks in at 534 acres and it captures a huge variety of different biomes. You can get (truly) lost among the trees in the vast forested areas or stroll through a meadow to come to stunning bluffs overlooking Puget sound.

You can meet us at 10 am on Sunday for a brisk walk through the forest and along the cliffs to a cozy beach with a lighthouse and back. It's about 5mi round trip and there are about 400' of stairs to climb but we won't be pushing too hard so hopefully anyone can join. If you'd prefer to skip it, you are still welcome to join us at noon for some food in the park (which will be provided).

Just search for Discovery Park East Parking Lot in your favorite maps app and you will be led right there. For those of you staying in Ballard, you can even try walking across the locks if you're looking for an extra bit of exercise. We love heading down that path (in the opposite direction) for Sunday brunch. :)

• Monday, September 16

- 10am – Brunch at someplace? (page 7)
- 6pm – Our wedding celebration dinner! (page 7)

And that's it! If you are looking for more things to do, you can check out our favorite places to eat, relax, and explore in this awesome city! Flip to page 8 for that.

Contents

Saturday Event Details

Events	1
Saturday Event Details	4
Saturday Dinner at Peddler Brewing . . . . .	4
Sunday Event Details	5
Discovery Park Hike and Picnic Lunch . . . . .	5
The Nisqually Room at Ivar's Salmon House . . . . .	6
Monday Event Details	7
Brunch at . . . . .	7
Wedding Celebration! . . . . .	7
Things to Do and See in Seattle	8
Bites to Eat . . . . .	8
Perché No . . . . .	8
Mondello Ristorante Italiano . . . . .	8
Dumpling Tzar . . . . .	9
The Café Life . . . . .	9
Miro Tea . . . . .	9
Bars and Nightlife . . . . .	9
Pie Bar Ballard . . . . .	9
Touristy Stuff . . . . .	10
Pike Place Market . . . . .	10
Smith Tower . . . . .	11

Here you can read a bit more about the things we've planned to see which of them tickle your fancy.

Saturday Dinner at Peddler Brewing

1514 NW Leary Way, Seattle, WA 98107

Things to Do and See in Seattle

We've pulled together our combined recommendations for things to do, see, and eat. Hopefully these things float your boat!

Bites to Eat

Perché No

1319 N 49th St Seattle, WA, 98103

This wonderful restaurant is where Allison and Nico had one of their very first dates! It is an Italian restaurant owned and run by a Korean couple – he is the head chef and she works the front of the house – and it's to die for.

It has a fun ambiance and the whole restaurant surrounds a big open kitchen where you can watch the chef boil up your fresh house-made pasta and enjoy a glass of wine from their extensive wine list. On our first trip the owner came up to us and told us all about her son who just started a food truck – she was so proud!

Mondello Ristorante Italiano

2425 33rd Ave W #3 Seattle, WA 98199

Speaking of incredible Italian food, Mondello is our new secret spot (shhh...) to take people from out of town. Come inside and you are in your family's kitchen (or maybe some idealized version that cleans up) and a sweet Sicilian lady will come up and treat you like one of her own. The food is authentic with a capital "A" and you'll swear that you have been magically transported to the south of Italy.

For an added bonus, you can pop next door for some Gelato from the Nutty Squirrel! They have gelato and sorbetto for the vegans among you.

Dumpling Izar

The Café Life

Seattle is definitely known for its coffee scene, but these cafés have stood out to us as truly outstanding.

Miro Tea

5405 Ballard Ave NW, Seattle, WA 98107

Okay, so it's not coffee. But if you are a tea drinker like Nico you will almost certainly find something you love. They have some outstanding Chinese tea (Nico always gets a gaiwan of puerh tea) and some friendly staff who know what they're talking about.

The best part is that, if you're staying in Ballard, it's right around the corner!

Bars and Nightlife

Looking to shake your groove thing or get your drank on? Luckily there are some happening spots for you hep cats.

Pie Bar Ballard

2218 NW Market St, Seattle, WA 98107

As you probably know, Allison can't have gluten and Nico doesn't drink. Luckily that isn't a problem for them because Pie Bar is a thing! Right down the street from the Ballard Hotel sits this warm little shop with a cozy ambience where you can go alone or with a group to go grab a slice and/or a cocktail.

People are friendly and the pie is great and you'd be hard pressed to have a bad time here.

Touristy Stuff

What kind of city guide would this be if we didn't include the stuff that tourists like to do? If you ask a Seattleite, they'd never be caught dead in these places although secretly we've all been to most of these places at least once.

You can find everything on the map below with the numbers corresponding to the number in each heading.

Pike Place Market

Don't you dare call it "Pike's place"! This is a bustling market right in the middle of downtown that is famous for, among other things, the fishmongers who throw their fresh fish back and forth. We love it for the fantastic deals you can get on fresh bouquets and the cute hand-crafted goods you can find there.

If you're feeling nostalgic (and you have too much time on your hands) you can also visit the first Starbucks which is located right across the street. We'd recommend walking about 500 feet down the street and getting the exact same cup of coffee from a more modern Starbucks with a fraction of the wait, however. :)

Smith Tower

Sure, you could go to the space needle but honestly we've gone there and paid the $40 fee to ride up in the elevator and it's a bit of a bust. And this is on top of having to pay for parking and navigate the craziness of downtown.

Instead, let us offer you the Smith Tower as an alternative. Have you ever wanted to feel like you were part of the 1920s upper crust? Well you're in luck because for the low, low price of $20 you can get a historical tour of the building followed by a ride up in the elevator to the Observatory Bar, a luxurious room with 360 degree views of Seattle and the Sound and one thing that you'll never see from the Space Needle: the Space Needle itself!

Allison absolutely fell in love with the tower when she first visited when she was younger and has since convinced Nico to love it (almost) as much.

You can also choose to visit after hours (after 9pm) to shave $8 off the admission price.

